True relaxation in your home

Have you dreamed about making your home a place of true relaxation? A place where you can leave all your worries and stress behind and recharge yourself. An indoor sauna is the perfect choice for that.

You can have your own sanctuary in your living room or just a few steps from your bed. If you are a social animal, then a sauna in your home is a perfect excuse to invite friends or family over and catch up in a relaxing atmosphere.

Auroom indoor saunas are made to fit in your home. Because of technological advances, saunas are no longer confined to specific locations in the countryside or forest. It is increasingly common that even in small city apartments, a sauna is a natural part of the layout.

An oasis in your garden

Close your eyes and imagine that you have a sauna in your garden. After basking in the heat, you jump in a cold shower or natural pond in the garden to cool down, or in winter, dive into cold powdered snow. But why just dream?

An Auroom outdoor sauna is a wonderful everyday luxury that will make your outdoor living experience even more enjoyable by broadening your options for socialising and activities.

While enjoying sauna solo is always a welcome experience, the outdoor sauna is best enjoyed as a group activity. Your sauna will provide the perfect excuse to spend time with friends, get to know your colleagues or invite your family around for a catch-up. Outdoor saunas make a complete event - you can combine a barbeque dinner with a refreshing sauna experience.
